LB 85

SENATOR SCHIMEK: Yes, thank you, Mr. President and members. Somebody mentioned a little while ago about the fact that we have a one-house Legislature and we don't have the second house to be a brake, perhaps, on legislation that we pass. True, we do not have the second house. But the beauty of our system is that we have a lot of other steps in the process which some other states don't have. And let me just remind you that in many, many other states there are not hearings on bills where the public can come and talk about their views on the issues. In many, many other states the Chairs of those committees are actually picked by the Speaker of the House or the President of the Senate or the political party caucus. And those committee Chairs do not have the flexibility sometimes that we have in our own state. In addition to that, there are very strong party caucuses in other states which really dictate policy sometimes in those states. So we have in the first place in our whole committee system a lot more flexibility and ability to hear from the public than they do in other states. In addition to that, once a bill gets to the floor in Nebraska, it has many opportunities to be debated. That is not true in other states. In other states, sometimes the bill is up, it's debated once and then it's gone. In Nebraska, you can keep working on a bill for as long as you like. So I don't think that anybody should criticize the fact that we only have one house. It has a lot of safeguards built into it, and we're witnessing one of those safeguards here this morning. You can return a bill from Select File to debate it once again. The motion to return that's up there now is a motion to return to the same amendment that we discussed at least two or three times already. And I would say that if we do return the bill and do adopt an amendment then what you have done is you have said we are going to do nothing this year. The whole reason that I brought this bill to the floor and worked so hard over probably a lot of odds to get it here was that I felt this is a critical issue that has been neglected too long. We should have done it years ago, but it is never too late and that's why we're here this morning and I would urge you not to return to Select File. In essence, that kills the bill for this year as you all know. Thank you very much.
